

At Aldgate Kindergarten “KEEPING SAFE: the Child Protection Curriculum” is a significant element in our program. Today (23 May) we learnt about how to keep ourselves safe around roads and at the beach. Harold and his Life Education Van were in Aldgate Primary school and we went to visit him.

We learnt about signs.

We sang about needing to put on a seat belt when we get into our car. We learnt what a zebra crossing looks like. We talked about the signs that tell us about safe and unsafe places to swim at the beach. We talked about only ever taking medicine when it is given to us by an adult who cares for us.

The van had wheels AND little legs.

We all climbed the stairs and sat inside the yellow lines. There was carpet on the walls and we could not hear anything outside. There were twinkly lights on the ceiling which looked like stars.

We helped Isabella play some games. Some people had to pull things out of a bag and we had to say whether the thing was helpful to Harold at the beach or whether it was just a toy. We used our hand and gave a thumbs up or a thumbs down. Then we helped make a felt picture on the wall of all those things Harold would use to help keep himself safe at the beach. It was fun.
